

Happy New Year

As the hours and minutes count down to the new year I want to wish all my quilting friends abundant peace and joy in 2018.

We have such an opportunity to give to others. There is such peace as we snuggle and rest under the warmth of a handmade quilt. The joy we get from the planning and building a quilt, in most cases, just to give it away is reason enough for many of us to keep on quilting. We are a special group. So, my friends, keep up the good work. We make the world a better place! And Yes! Only 10 more days! Happy New Year!
